Report of the Head of Education Development - Chris Millis

Matter for information

Wards Affected: All

Professional Learning Offers available for school based staff

Purpose of the Report

To provide Members with information and data in relation to all professional learning opportunities that are available to school based staff in the academic year 2022 -2023-2024

Background

This report provides Members with details of Professional Learning offers to school based staff

The purpose of professional learning is to support the delivery of high standards and aspirations for all learners, how schools develop as learning organisations and the entitlement for practitioners to access quality professional learning. With support from their school or setting, practitioners should consider the professional learning opportunities available and plan their individual professional learning journey to best meet their needs, the needs of their school or setting and the needs of their learners.

All education professionals are entitled to an individual professional learning journey. They should have access to well-designed professional learning that includes a blend of approaches and opportunities for reflection, enquiry and collaboration for learning. Also, work in a school or setting, or organisation that sees itself as a learning organisation and uses professional standards in all aspects of professional development

Practitioners should actively pursue and reflect on their individual professional learning journey and actively engage in professional learning and make positive use of time allocated for it, including INSET time. They should regularly consider their role in supporting the school or setting as a learning organisation, their practice in terms of the professional standards and instigating improvement by seeking appropriate professional learning.

School based staff can also access training from other providers. Our Youth Service for example, offer young carer awareness training to schools and also LGBTQ+ and healthy relationship training.

Safeguarding is an important aspect of school training, covering such areas as Designated Safeguarding Person (DSP), attending the Safeguarding conference, Better Futures training, whole school training and Governors training.

A bespoke package is available to Governors, a few examples have been;

- Curriculum for Wales
- Understanding Data (Primary and Secondary Schools)
- Understanding the Redundancy process
- Understanding the School Budget Formula
- Understanding Religion, Values and Ethnics in the Curriculum for Wales
- Dealing with School Complaints
- Awareness of Staff Wellbeing in Schools
- An Introduction to Online Safety

The Adult Learning team also offer additional learning needs training on such areas as Autism and Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD). This is currently being developed in partnership with Maes Y Coed School. Our Skills and Training also offer a variety of courses.

Some schools have attended an Early Years cluster transition meeting ('Cuppa with your Cluster) in their cluster area. Audience: Nursery teachers/staff and Headteachers, Childcare Professionals, Health Visitors, Flying Start Speech and Language therapy team, NPT Early Years and Childcare team, NPT Early Years Inclusion team. The purpose of the event was to strengthen transition processes and arrangements and further develop relationships between schools, childcare providers and Early Years professionals. Following on from this initial event, early years cluster meetings will continue to take place on a six-monthly basis. This has been followed up with a NPT Early Years Conference: The Importance of Play for Children in their Early Years. Keynote Speaker: Alice Sharp. Audience: Early Years teachers, Childcare Providers and Early Years Professionals.

From the appendices, you can see the variety of professional learning offered. Some are one off "courses", many form part of ongoing professional development linked to the school's development plan and individual learning pathways. Attendance figures for each offer vary, considering the nature of the course, for example 19 staff attended the course for Personal Education Plans for Children and Young People Looked After (CLA). In comparison, 46 staff attended the induction programme for newly qualified teachers.

It should be noted that the attached documents do not contain the additional support offered to schools where officers attend the school and work with individual staff, senior leaders, governors, departments, whole school training etc.

Also, schools are at liberty to engage with private providers and companies for training and development.

Members will continue to be provided with reports on Professional Learning and Professional Development, upon request.
